We produce our Commandaria in the village of Zoopigi, at the slopes of the Troodos mountains from sundried Xynisteri grapes.

After we harvest the grapes from vineyards under our management, we dry the grapes on elevated drying beds, and partial shading to achieve even drying and avoiding mould.

We press the grapes after two weeks and ferment in stainless steel tanks on naturally present yeast.

The wine then ages for 10 years in used oak barrels in our cellar, before bottling it.

Melusine Commandaria is a light amber coloured wine, with complex notes of dried fruits, honey, orange peel and balanced acidity to keep its freshness.

Enjoy on its own or with dessert. PDO Wine, 500ml, 13.5% Vol.
